News and Comment

A New York woman was awarded $35,000 in a breach of promise suit. It is a doubtful business to bring such suits, but it sometimes pays.

An Ohio Judge sentenced a thief who stole eggs to be fed on nothing but eggs for five days. Such punishment cannot be inflicted in Kentucky. It would soon bankrupt the State, with eggs at 35 cents the dozen.

Chicago law requires that policemen must be at least 30 years old. But is the job worth such an admission?

The New York Sun says Mrs. Pankhurst's husband is at rest. As the poor fellow is dead, there seems to be no doubt of it.

The New York waiters' union is asking the Legislature to provide fine and imprisonment both for the giver and taker of "tips" at hotels. They want the proprietors to pay reasonable wages without forcing them to accept gratuities. The public won't object.

If Rev. E. L. Powell would talk more religion and less politics he would get closer to God and further from Louisville. Likewise be more respected.—Glasgow Times. Just so. The preacher perniciously in politics as Powell is disgusts decent people.

A Chicago clairvoyant says he made $500,000 in 15 years. Which shows that a sucker is born every minute.

The wife of Admiral Eaton claimed in her testimony that she married him to save him from a drunkard's fate. Then she killed him, doubtless, to save him a worse fate—that of living with her.

The work of counting the $170,000,000 in the vaults of the Sub-Treasury preparatory to the new Assistant Treasurer's acceptance of his office shows that a country that has that much money to count is not in great danger of bankruptcy.

Billy Sunday, the ex-base ball player, says a "man doesn't have to wallow on the floor and scream to be converted." It seems, though, that Billy thinks that buttofery in the pulpit is necessary to make his converts come through sufficiently to have 'em come down with the lucre.

Something to worry about? The new tariff increases the duty on poker chips!

Because her backers insisted on taking up a collection after charging $2 to hear Mrs. Pankhurst, Indianapolis authorities wouldn't let her speak there. They evidently didn't want her to take away all of the circulating medium.

Some women object to vacuum cleaners because they are not so handy as the broomstick in case they want to discipline their husbands.

The female dean of the Ohio State College has passed favorably upon tan-go, but says the "fish walk" will be barred. Did you ever see a fish walk? If you have you can appreciate what manner of dance it is.

When in a telling speech at Lexington for the Democratic ticket Gov. McDermott defined fusion as "a union of discordant elements," he struck centre. The only thing upon which the hungry crowd is united is to get the loaves and fishes.

An attempt will be made to impeach Judge F. D. Sampson by the next Legislature and Hon. R. B. Franklin and Samuel M. Wilson have been engaged to prosecute the charges of improper conduct. As Sampson was a law partner of Caleb Powers, there will be little wonder if the charges are sustained.

Dr. Cooper, of the Midway Clipper, says that rabbits sell there as fast as they can be hauled out at 15 cents. He has laid in his winter supply and mocks at those who would sell him steak at 40 cents a pound.

If you are worthy of the glorious name of Democrat you won't fail to go the polls next Tuesday and stamp under the rooster.

Pity the poor fusion speakers in Fayette. Cold as it is to all of us at present, they are experiencing a frost that must chill their very souls. At the Opera House Wednesday night the "services" looked more like a funeral than a political meeting.

Brother Walter has evidently been getting in his work. Editor Graham Vreeland, of the Frankfort State Journal, actually got a scriptural quotation right the other day. It must be a hard job to beat such knowledge into his head, but Brother Walter is patient and long-suffering and may finally succeed in making a Bible scholar of his pupil.

Address by The Governor.

Gov. McCreary will deliver an address at the Normal Chapel Nov. 4th at 9:30 a. m. It will be practically the same as that he delivered at the Perry Centennial. The public is invited.

Ought Not To Pass.

The proposition to work the convicts on public roads is of very doubtful expediency. Some of us are old enough to remember the contract system permitted under the old constitution. The brutalities under that system, which enabled several well-known corporations to grow immensely wealthy at the expense of the lives of the State's delinquents, caused such a revolt that a provision was placed in the constitution of 1892, that no convict should ever be worked outside of the walls of the penitentiary.

At the present, the prisons are doing fairly well. Their labor is leased to corporations whose products do not come directly in competition with skilled labor. Their hire more than pays for their keep, and they are comfortably clothed, fed, housed and treated. It is hardly to be supposed that the nature of a convict will be changed by putting him on the road. A docile convict will work and an incorrigible will not. We are inclined to think this amendment ought to be voted down.—Bowling Green Messenger.

RHEUMA THOROUGHLY DRIVES OUT DEEP-SEATED URIC ACID POISON.

KEEP CONVICTS IN WALLS.

Without giving the matter much thought we were at first inclined to advocate the amendment to the Constitution permitting the use of the convicts to make and work roads, but since a more careful study we have come to the conclusion that it would prove an undesirable as well as a costly undertaking. At present the major part of the convicts are profitably engaged at work inside the walls of the penitentiaries and have been put on a self-sustaining basis. The men are not overworked, they are comfortably clothed, housed and fed and are taught trades with which to make a living after their release. There is no chance of cruelty. The work that they do is under the eye of the superintendent, who sees that the contract with the State is not violated. The State is now $250,000 in debt and is in no condition to try a doubtful experiment. To work convicts on the roads would require the building of strong stockades at a large cost, and while they were at work a guard for every half to a dozen men would have to be employed. Instead therefore of being self-sustaining they would become a heavy burden on the State not only to bear it. Some of the States that have tried the plan have found it more expensive than free labor and would gladly give it up if they could.

It is claimed that the open air would be good for the convicts and that by working them on the roads they would not conflict with free labor. The Constitution says that convicts shall not be worked outside the prison walls and as to coming into competition with free labor there is nothing that they can do which will not put them in such competition. At present they compete as little as possible with free labor. The plan is working well. The innovation will be sure to prove objectionable. Let well enough alone and vote "No" on the proposition.

It was telegraphed from Washington that President Wilson had sent messages to all Collectors and U. S. marshals not to remove deputies except for cause. This sounded a little suspicious, but when he further stated that "a sufficient cause may be that a deputy collector may not be regarded by the collector as worthy of the full confidence of his superior and in accord with him in every way," confidence took the place of doubt and foreboding. The Democratic official who regards a Republican as worthy of his full confidence would be a curiosity. Ben Marshall, the Collector in the Lexington district, will never have so serious a charge brought against him. He has already displaced the Republican chief deputy and put his friend, W. F. Gray, of Frankfort, in his stead, and Judge Hughes won't be long in finding that Wiseman's chief deputy is not the man for him to confide in. Turn the rascals out! How could a Democrat regard a Republican subordinate as worthy of full confidence?

In its report to the court, the Madison county grand jury makes a suggestion that we would like to see enacted into law, which is that when a man fires shots from a pistol on the public highway or other places and is seen with it in his hand, it should be prima facie evidence of concealed weapons. Nearly all the murders which afflict the State are the result of the pernicious habit of carrying concealed weapons and every law possible to prevent it should be passed and enforced.

From all that we can gather, Fayette county will join with Madison in celebrating a Democratic victory next Tuesday. Over there the fusion fizzle seems to have been worn to a frazzle by the Democratic orators and Democratic success seems as certain as it is here, where the opposition has singled out a few of the candidates for slaughter, which will not eventuate if Democrats go to the polls and stamp under the rooster.

It looks mighty strange to see the Louisville Post supporting the Democratic ticket and raises suspicion that there is something wrong with the ticket or that Knott is trying to defeat it with his withering support.

Resulting from the bites, the report says that 117 cases of rabies were treated. These startling figures were given out by Dr. Ernst Lederle, President of the department of health, who had them compiled because of the unusual number of attacks by dogs in the last few days.

SEVERE BRONCHIAL COUGH

Doctors Feared Lung Trouble, Restored to Health by Vinol.

The medical profession does not believe that lung troubles are inherited, but a person may inherit a weakness or tendency to them.

Mrs. Kate Heckman, Springfield, Ohio, says: "A few years ago I was in a very bad run-down condition, and the physician told me I had consumption. I tried another physician, and he told me I had tuberculosis on my right lung. I quit the physicians and started on 'Vinol.' Today I am perfectly healthy, and that is why I recommend 'Vinol.'" Vinol soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces and allays the cough. Vinol creates an appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and gives the patient strength to throw off incipient pulmonary diseases.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

P. S.—For any skin trouble try our Sazo Salve. We guarantee it.

A Lovely Face—But Ugly Hair

How often you see an otherwise lovely face spoiled by a homely hair—that hair which would be most charmingly beautiful if she only had prettier hair. What a pity! and how foolish! Because that ugly hair, stringy, dull, lifeless looking, though it may be, can be made as glossy, soft, silky and beautiful as the hair could desire if only taken proper care of.

Harmony Hair Beautifier is just what its name is—hair beautifier. It is not a hair dye or hair oil—it is just a dainty rose perfumed liquid dressing to give the hair its natural glow and brightness. Its natural softness, its natural richness, very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather and immediately penetrates to every part of the hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair, leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet smelling cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler caps. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way or your money returned. Sold in this community only at the following places:

One of the 7,000 leading drug stores of the States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet preparations are made.—Perry's Drug Store, Richmond, Ky.

Dog and Fox.

A Richmond citizen, who asks that his name be withheld, sends the following answer to the problem printed in the last issue of The Climax. There are so many answers we are loath.

4 dog-leaps equals 7 fox-leaps. Suppose fox leap 4 feet at each leap. 7 leaps of 4 feet, equal 28. 4 dog-leaps, equal 28. Length of dog-leap is 7 feet. Fox leaps 5 times to dog's 3. Fox leaps 20 feet while dog leaps 21. Fox is 30 leaps, 120 feet ahead. Fox loses 1 foot every 5 leaps. Therefore, he must take 600 leaps to lose 120 feet; 5 x 120.

WHEREIN SHE WAS LACKING

Child's Failure to Perform Feat Left Her Discouraged, but by No Means Discouraged.

One reason for the refreshing quality of childish companionship lies in the simplicity and naivete of the childish standpoint. Naturally logic, the normal child makes no effort in this direction, but, being honest enough to admit facts as they happen to be, at times, sometimes, surprising conclusions and results.

Little Olive, for example, had read about Christ walking upon the water. She decided to do the same, and, calm in her assured confidence, invited a group of juvenile companions to witness her triumph. Olive herself was desirous of making the attempt in deep water, but by a more practical comrade was persuaded at least to begin near the shore.

The test proved unsuccessful. Again and again the child—perplexed and troubled by jeers of the other children, essayed to walk on top of the water, only to find herself sinking. At last, the laughter of her audience overcoming her own inclinations, she admitted herself temporarily vanquished. But she waded ashore with a final cutting thrust.

"You needn't think I couldn't do it just because I didn't. I could have done it all right if I'd had enough faith!"

SHORTHAND PUT TO TEST

Missionary Is by That Means Instilling Bible Truths into Indians of British Columbia.

Wonderful things are happening in the remote corners of the world, and not the least of these is the mastery of a system of shorthand by more than 2,000 Indians in British Columbia, 300 miles northeast of Victoria. Some years ago a priest named Le Jeune from Brittany, France, went to that region. He worked out an Indian vocabulary in shorthand signs, containing all the words in every day use among them, and explained the system to one of the bright Indian boys, who at once enthusiastically took to the new "talk language." All this he told in the Churchman. In a little while about 500 of the Indians had mastered the system, and Le Jeune was kept busy providing literature printed in the characters of his system. He transcribed portions of the Bible as well as other religious books, and had various parts in the Bible published in the different languages spoken by the tribes in that region, using the shorthand method, and is now at work on other publications. A shorthand newspaper, called the Kamloops Wanda, is published with news pertaining to the tribes. Before Le Jeune appeared the Indians of the locality along the Thompson and Fraser rivers had not written or printed language.

His Knowledge of Jungle Noises.

They were sitting in a booth at a well-known New York cafe, and conversation had turned upon the subject of mysterious midnight noises. Each in turn related some little anecdote, when a spare young man in the corner suddenly rose to his feet.

"Gentlemen," said he, "your experiences are very interesting; but for real awe give me the roaring of the lion or sharp trumpeting of an elephant borne to you on the still night air as you lie silent, neither asleep nor awake."

They stared at him in surprise. Was this pale youth, then, some great traveler?

"Excuse me," one asked, "but have you slept in the jungle and heard these mighty beasts as they roamed about by night?"

"Well, it's not exactly that," replied the youth, reaching for his hat, "but I always sleep with my window open, and I live in Fifth avenue, directly opposite the Central Park Zoo!"—New York World.

Wells in London.

There are now no fewer than 52 wells in the city, sunk in order to avoid the high charges for water under the Metropolitan Water board, says the London (Eng.) Post. By the charges act of 1907 the charge is 5 per cent upon the assessable value of the quantity of water used, unless the consumption is for trade purposes, when an additional meter charge is made. This increasing demand made on the water-bearing strata has, so far, made no appreciable difference in the water level, although it was prophesied that it would. Satisfactory analyses are stated to have been made of the quality of the water drawn. The wells are increasing, all new buildings over a certain annual value having them in the specification.

Too Late.

Twenty years ago a Colorado man in a spasm of rage left his home and his wife, vowing never to return. Now, Never, is a long time, and spasm of rage are short—always. But Joseph Bronson stood away out of pride for 20 years. The other day he gave up the fight against his better nature, a nature most persons have, you know—and decided to return, apologize and be truly good for the future. He found the wife he had left had long been dead. The little children had grown up and gone away. His repentance came far too late to be of any value to others or himself. For his spasm of anger and for his obstinacy and pride, he must pay the price of useless remorse for the remainder of his days. Of course, one can't always avoid the spasm of rage. But one can repent promptly and endeavor to repair damages while they are fresh—with some degree of success. Related repentances are of little value as a rule in obliterating blot and scars. He was wise who said that best time to repent is beforehand. Get the idea?

Thursday about 5 p. m. the second section of a local freight ran into the first, which was standing at Red House, tearing the caboose to pieces, which caught fire and was consumed. Larkin Gilbert, a colored man in the employ of the railroad, was crushed to death, both legs being broken and his back fractured. The body was brought to town by Undertakers Othman & Lackey and an inquiry held by Squire J. D. Dykes acting as coroner, with a verdict in accordance with the facts stated. Besides the loss of the caboose, there was little other damage and traffic was delayed but about four hours. The through train from the South, due here at 5:07, was able to pass the wreck a little after 9. Failure of the air brakes to work is given as the cause of the wreck, the engineer being unable to stop his train on the down grade.

Contrary to expectations all officers held the regency were not re-elected, only Mesdames Caperton and Gale and Miss Morrow being accorded the honor of reelection.

Something Almost as Good.

A dispatch from Lexington to the Cincinnati Enquirer, says: "John R. Gibson, of Richmond, announced while here today that he will make formal application for appointment as United States Marshal for the Eastern District of Kentucky, to succeed Captain A. B. Patrick, of Covington. Gibson said that he has decided upon this to satisfy hundreds of friends who had expected that he would be appointed Collector of Internal Revenue for the Eighth District, which office was last week given to Judge John W. Hughes of Harrodsburg."

The climax hopes that the popular gentleman will be more successful in this effort, but if he isn't he won't go crying around like some disappointed applicants.

The Special Registration.

Resulted in adding sixty-eight Democrats, 11 Republicans and 2 Independents to the list, which makes 731 Democratic voters in Richmond, 281 Republican and 15 Independents. This gives a majority for the Democrats of 232 over all. Only in the Mayor's race is there opposition. The Councilmen will be Democratic, and a Mayor not in accord with them would be worse than a figure-head. He could accomplish nothing if he desired. We have heard of some opposition to Mayor Rice because he helped to increase his salary and those of the Councilmen, but if there are any who would wish him defeated because of this, they should remember that the salary is fixed anyway. They will save nothing by it. Mayor Rice has made a good official. Stamp under the rooster and thereby vote for the whole Democratic ticket.

Ovation to Collector Hughes.

The ovation tendered to former Judge John W. Hughes, now collector of this district, by his home people Tuesday night was the greatest affair of its kind in the history of Harrodsburg and was entered into with zest by his numerous friends, regardless of political affiliations. A number of prominent men came from a distance and there was a banquet and speech making. In his reply to the welcome and congratulatory speeches, Collector Hughes touched off a bomb that blasted the hopes of many prospective applicants for places when he stated that there were only 14 positions within his power to fill at present, but he hoped that the Democratic Congress would do after the law that in a year hence he could substitute Democrats for every Republican under him. The Judge will assume the duties of his office tomorrow.

MAUPIN TRIAL.

Jury Renders a Verdict Of "Not Guilty."

When the climax went to press Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the jury was being selected for the trial of Brack Maupin for the murder of James Farris, as told of in that issue. Of the men summoned from Clark county, the jury was obtained that afternoon as follows: French Dykes, Ollie Dykes, Carl Oliver, Claiborne Brock, Ben Duckworth, John Green, Jerry Turley, Nathan Golden, W. M. Stokely, Fount Hughes and W. E. Heflin.

Statement for the defense was made by Mr. John Noland and for the prosecution by Hon. A. Floyd Byrd.

As the case has been tried before, resulting in a hung jury—10 to 2 for acquittal—the readers of the climax are doubtless familiar with the facts of the killing, which occurred on Main street in Richmond October county court day, 1912.

Maupin is said to have been engaged in some business on the street when Farris came up. There is a conflict of testimony as to what was said, but none as to the fact that Maupin immediately drew his pistol and fired five shots into the body of Farris and with tiger-like ferocity crushing his head with the pistol and then cutting the throat of his victim.

In his testimony Mr. Maupin told of the alleged unlawful relations having existed between his wife and Jas. Farris for 13 years prior to the killing; that the couple had lived in a boarding house together in Richmond, Lexington, Lancaster and other places; how they had secret arrangements by which to get mail to each other; that he had on one occasion accosted Farris and would have killed him then, but Farris begged for his life, saying he was unarmed; at another time he had followed Farris and Mrs. Maupin to a place and Farris got the drop on him and forced him to back down a flight of stairs.

Dr. Geo. Sprague, of Lexington, testified that mental worries, such as Maupin had gone through, were sufficient to produce insanity to such an extent that a person would not be responsible for what he might do.

Cross examination failed to shake Mr. Maupin's testimony in any material point. Corroborating testimony was adduced and at 2 o'clock yesterday, the case was ready for argument, which was begun in a strong speech by Attorney C. C. Wallace for the defense, followed by A. Floyd Byrd for the prosecution, who pleaded for capital punishment, saying that no manslaughter verdict would atone. At the conclusion of his speech court adjourned till this morning.

The arguments were limited to three hours to the side.

Court convened at 8 a. m. this morning, when Hon. John M. Stevenson, of Winchester, was heard for the accused, followed by Judge W. B. Smith for the prosecution, Mr. J. Tevis Cobb for the defense, Commonwealth's Attorney R. A. Crutcher closing in a powerful speech for the State. The case was given to the jury at 12:15 and court adjourned for dinner. The jury considered the case in the afternoon and at 2:10 brought in a verdict of acquittal.

The Winkler murder case goes over till next court. The trials of Henry Campbell, white, for detaining a female, Charles Brown, etc., for robbery and George Fox for burglary are set for tomorrow, which is the last day of the term.

Stamp In The Circle Under The Rooster.

In another column of this issue will be found the Democratic ticket, county and city, stamped like all good Democrats will stamp their ballots next Tuesday. To vote the entire ticket, a stamp in the circle under the rooster with the stencil that you will find in the booth is all that is necessary to vote the full, straight Democratic ticket. A stamp in the square by the proposed constitutional amendments either "yes" or "no," according to your desire, and you will have performed the highest duty of an American citizen.

A dispatch says that "A murder committed on the night of February 21, 1900, seems about to be cleared up at last. Miss Mollie Abbott, living at Abbott's Mill, on Lulburg Creek, Clark county, was shot in the side, from the effects of which wound she afterwards died in the Lexington asylum, she having lost her mind. Nobody was ever convicted although five men in the neighborhood were tried and acquitted of the charge. Frank T. Strayer, an attorney of Richmond, Ind., made his appearance in Winchester Wednesday, and announced that he had sufficient proof to fasten the crime on a man who lives near Foster Grove, Ind., and another man, who is now said to be at Hamilton, Ohio." HOUSE HE BUILT HER
By E. L. DITHRIDGE.

"Yes," said the elder man, "you may, but only after you have complied with a certain condition."

The other leaned forward eagerly, hoping the condition would be within his powers to perform. His eyes glowed; his lips parted. His hands clasped, and his fingers twisted anxiously, during the pause that ensued.
Then the condition came, short, forcible and abrupt:

"First build her a house!"

Well, it was a hard requirement at best, and almost an impossible one.
Yet he made up his mind at once that he would comply with the condition.

James Burton was a young engineer trying to make his fortune in the mines of Mexico. He had no money with which to start independently, so he had engaged as an assistant in the employ of a large company operating near Mexico City. He had not been in the country six months, and during that period had grown to love the daughter of a wealthy ranch owner.
The rancher had practically no English education himself, but had provided a way for the education of his children in both English and Spanish. His eldest daughter, Aurora, had attended a boarding school in Philadelphia.

Aurora was as sensible as she was bright. None of the fickle, flirty character of the Spanish race seemed to belong to her.

Burton loved her, not merely because she was captivating, but because she combined those sterling qualities admired by every man of serious nature.

He knew Aurora loved him, and all he wanted was the parental sanction.
Now he had obtained it, but with a difficult condition imposed.

How could he build her a house? He was drawing only $120 per month.
Enough, you say? Remember that this is the debased currency of Mexico.

So how was James Burton to support himself on $120 a month and build a house besides? You don't know, and neither did he; but he determined to do it just the same.

By means of many inquiries he had satisfied himself that $250 Mexican was a safe estimate of the cost of a three-room adobe house built so as to be barely comfortable.

Burton figured that the wages on the foundation would cost him $20, that the adobe would cost him $10, and that he could get half the quantity delivered in March and the other half in April. Then he could get about $20 worth of work done each month until the house was completed.

As a site for her house he selected the brow of a little hill about a mile from the reduction plant and about half a mile from the line of the company's property. Then he started a man excavating, for he had decided to deviate from the Mexican custom and have a little cellar.

Every evening he would trot out on horseback and take a look at the progress being made. He was rather disappointed at the slow rate of advance, but couldn't blame the workman for the cause of the trouble was self-evident. Right in the middle of the hole stuck a point of rock formed in a perfect cone. The workman had tried to dig it out, but as he dug the rock seemed to grow.

As he stood there musing on how much extra the rock would cost him, he kicked at it absent-mindedly and vindictively.

The sun was just setting, and its rays struck squarely on the place where his boot had scraped off the earth from the stone.

"My! That's a mighty bright spot of stone!" thought Burton to himself.
"Guess I'll knock off a hit and see what it looks like inside."

The house he built her was not finished till two years later; but it was located in the American section of the City of Mexico, instead of out in the wilderness.

It was built of cut stone instead of baked mud, and contained 30 rooms instead of three. Its lights were electric instead of tallow. Its windows were trimmed with marble, and its mirrored halls with onyx. Many an opal decked its dining room; for its beauty entailed with a lavish hand and was never called on to economize.

One of these functions I was permitted to attend; and I heard her father say:

"Burton, you've made a fine success!"

"I owe it all to you," he replied.
"You made me attempt to build her a house; and it was then I struck the mine."

No Use.

There is a certain little girl in Brooklyn who remains unconvinced of the efficacy of prayer, in one direction at least.

"It ain't any use," she lately confided to a member of her family.
"For a long time I have wanted a baby brother. I pray, but he don't come."

"You should continue to pray," was the elder's advice. "There's no telling when your wish may be fulfilled."

"I don't believe it's any use," persisted the youngster. "Here I have been praying for a brother for over a year, but he don't come." Now the little girl across the street began praying for a brother only week before last, and he came yesterday—she got her wish right off!

Change Immigration Laws.
EDITOR CLIMAX:
There is now pending in Congress legislation looking to the betterment of our immigration laws, something to be most devoutly hoped for, as they certainly do need to be made to conform to present conditions. No sane and good man can object to a better system than has prevailed in the past in this respect. We are truly sorry for the down-trodden and oppressed of all lands; but while that is true, "self-preservation is the first law of nature."

To a good class of emigrants we can always give a hearty hand and a hearty welcome. But there is one class we cannot afford to accept on any conditions whatever, unless we choose to nurture a nest of vile vipers that will in time strike with their poison and rend us. Let those who are on the watch tower see to it in the councils of the country that such prohibitions are placed upon the immigration laws as will keep out an element that is dangerous, a not, calculated to build up, but to tear down and destroy. Let the press of the country demand it, and never let up until they have secured this much needed reform. For years and years, this country has been the dumping ground for all the vile assassins and inhuman criminals from all quarters of the earth. It was time it was stopped, and unless it is, they will, after awhile stop you.
"See the handwriting on the wall" and govern yourselves accordingly.

Yours,
S. M. BOONE.

Dogs vs. Sheep.

The worthless curs made the second raid on the flock of sheep belonging to Mr. C. H. Vanarsdal on the Hustonville road last Wednesday night killing and maiming ten. Our readers will remember Mr. Vanarsdal suffered considerable loss last year from the same cause. He has become thoroughly disgusted with the sheep business and sold at a sacrifice the remainder of his flock. For years the sheep industry to Mr. Vanarsdal was a source of pleasure and profit, now his losses have been so heavy and the tax on the dogs in this county only paid forty per cent of the losses from dogs last year. As stated, he quits the business which had been the most profitable of his farming.—Danville Messenger.

Can't Afford to Have Kidney Trouble.

No man with a family to support can afford to have kidney trouble, nor need he fear it with such a remedy at hand as Foley's Kidney Pills. An honest medicine, safe and reliable, costing little but doing much good. Foley's Kidney Pills eliminate backache and rheumatism, tone up the system and restore normal action of kidneys and bladder.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

We suppose that the Comptroller of the United States Treasury feels that if a 50-cent seat at the vaudeville performance is good enough for the President and an automobile of the vintage of 1870 is good enough for the Vice-President, the members of Congress can do without cavilling cards, so 'he refuses to pay the bills.

The changeable weather of early fall brings on coughs and colds that have a weakening effect on the system, and may become chronic. Use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It has a very soothing and healing effect on the irritated and inflamed air passages, and will help very quickly. It is a well known family medicine that gives results. For sale by all dealers. ad-act

The Amazing "Soo" Canal.

In the first six months of the season of navigation the freight tonnage passing through the "Soo" Canal showed a gain of more than 8,000,000 tons over the corresponding part of last year. The increase alone was enough to surpass the total business of almost any other artificial waterway in the world.

The rate of gain was about 20 per cent.
The total traffic was more than 60,000, 000 tons—over 10,000,000 a month since the beginning of April. That is at the rate of about 330,000 tons a day, including holidays and Sundays. It means more than 13,000 tons an hour, day and night—two big shiploads. It is equal to 216 tons a minute, without ceasing.

There is nothing else on earth like such figures. The traffic through the "Soo" Canal makes small by comparison the business of the Suez Canal, the Kiel Canal and the Manchester Canal, all taken together. It exceeds the traffic of London, Hamburg and Antwerp combined, month by month, day by day.

INSECT MURDERER AT WORK

Spectacle That Unnerved Naturalist Whose Work It Was to Observe Such Things.

One day, rummaging in an old desk,
I found a magnifying glass. It was September, and in a sunny weed-den corner of the garden I had discovered a big black-and-gold spider who had strung her web between two tall huddocks and was doing a thriving business in grasshoppers. Seated on the ground, I now surveyed her through the glass for an hour, as she hung in the middle of her engine of destruction. When I touched the net with my finger she swung frantically to and fro, prompted doubtless by some instinct of self-preservation, but otherwise was as motionless as if carved in stone. Grasshoppers were not very plentiful as yet, but at last a large green fellow flew plump into the toils, the spider on his legs, that had so often discoursed sweet music, becoming entangled. Instantly the crafty spinner was all alive. Darting upon her victim, she took her station above him, and, hanging by two legs, seized him round and round, ensnawing him in a hand of silver silk until he was as helpless as a mummy; and then she bit him in a dozen places with fangs cooking poison. At the spectacle of her evil eyes glittering with the lust of killing, magnified as they were by the glass, I turned sick and rolled over on my face among the weeds, and lay for a long time miserably inert.—Atlantic.

"FRIENDSHIP BOOK" NEW IDEA

Makes Happy and Novel Gift When
One Is Seeking a Suitable Present.

There are baby books and birthday books galore, but confess now that you never heard of a friendship book, and it is the new to you, it will very likely be new to your friends, which happily means that you have the opportunity of presenting them with a really novel gift. Procure a loose-leaf blank book at any stationery store. One with a cheap back will answer the purpose. See that the leaves are alphabetically indexed. Then, in your best handwriting or on the typewriter, map each page as follows: Write "Name" on extreme left of top line, "Home Address" on second line, "Business Address," next; "Telephone Number," next; "Birth day," next; "Anniversaries," next; "Favorite Color," and then a line each for "Favorite Authors," "Favorite Artists," "Likes," "Dislikes," "Characteristics," or have lines for "Remarks," and any other heading you might think of. Then procure a linen bookcover stamped in panels or forget-me-nots, and embroider in the natural colors of the flowers. Also embroider the words "Friendship Book" across the front.
If you are an artist, buy a loose-leaf book with unruled pages and decorate them in color—sketching in the headings fancifully.

Golfers' Lumbago.

Lumbago is at present claiming scores of victims, thanks to the recent curious vagaries of the weather.
"One might almost term the present type of the disease 'golf lumbago,'" writes a medical correspondent, "since most of the cases, at any rate as far as my experience goes, have first started on the links or have developed in the evening after a day's golf. Lumbago, of course, practically always starts in a chill of the deep muscles of the back. One can hardly play a round of golf without perspiring to a certain extent, usually about the small of the back. Recently we have had a succession of hot afternoons, suddenly giving way to cold evenings. A chill, of course, is most likely to attack that part of the body which is most overheated, in the golf-er's case the small of the back."—London Daily Mail.

Inventory.

A well-known financier was talking in Denver about an executor who had been, to say the least of it, re-mises.

"The man reminds me," said he, "of the two clerks who were making an inventory of a bankrupt actress' possessions. The inventory ran like this:

"Eight pots grease paint."
"Right."
"Three blond wigs."
"Right."
"One cigarette tube."
"Right."
"Six bottles of port."
"Right."
"I don't think it's port. It smells to me like claret."
"Thus the second inventory clerk spoke, and there followed an hour's intermission. The inventory went on again:

"She—his—shix empty—hic—claret bottle."
"Right—his—shat's right."

Westminster Latin.

Our modern pronunciation of Latin is mainly due to the former wide influence of Westminster school, which was for two centuries the leading public school of England, a fact which helps to explain the remarkable predominance of Old Westminster in the "Dictionary of National Biography." John Evelyn, in 1661, "heard at Westminster school exercises in Latin that wonderfully astonished" him. But he adds: "Fly it is that what they attain here so rapidly, they either do not retain or do not improve; and no less is to be blamed their odd pronunciation of Latin, so that out of England none were able to understand or endure it."—London Chronicle.

turning either way; positive force feed—no rolling forward; the load when the manure is moved toward the beater; even spreading until the last forkful is spread; made in seven sizes, wide and narrow boxes; special attachments for drilling and spreading lime.

Ask us also about our new wide spread attachment which scatters manure over an area eight feet wide—a very handy and convenient device for top dressing growing corn.

The next time you are in town stop and get a catalogue.
Ask us to show you this machine—to show you how it will save work and increase profits. Give us a chance to prove that the Low Spread tops them all.

Got Missing Figures

THE General Manager was presenting plans for an extension of the factory to the company's directors at Detroit. He found that he had left an estimate sheet in his desk at the factory. He called up the factory on the Bell Long Distance Telephone. His assistant read the figures to him and the directors were able to act without delay.

Annoying delays are avoided by the use of the Bell Telephone.
